River Publishers

Homage (and Criticism) to the Mediterranean City

Regional Sustainability and Economic Resilience

Authors:

Ioannis Vardopoulos, Harokopio University of Athens, Greece

Francisco Escrivà Saneugenio, University of Valencia, Spain

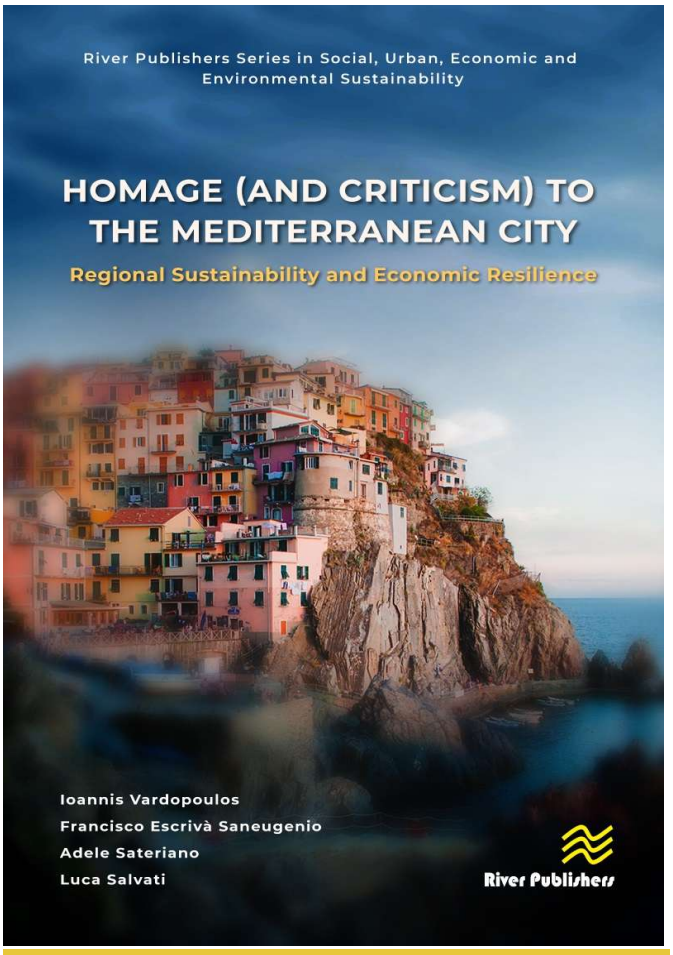
Adele Sateriano, Independent researcher, Rome, Italy

Luca Salvati, Sapienza University of Rome, Italy

Departing from conventional narratives centered on economic stagnation and social secularism, this book offers a fresh perspective on Mediterranean urbanities. It posits their correlation with housing and welfare regimes, societal transformations, local governance structures, and deficiencies in spatial planning. The analysis within delves into the neglected potential for mitigating regional disparities, conducting a meticulous examination of environmental disparities, economic imbalances, and overarching social inequalities in Southern European regions. The outcome aims to furnish an integrated, and potentially holistic, understanding of spatial divisions between cities and their surrounding territories.
TABLE OF CONTENTS

Contents:

Chapter 1. Mediterranean Cities, Regional Sustainability, and Economic Resilience
Chapter 2. Whispers of Change: Thirty Years for Redefining the 'Mediterranean City'
Chapter 3. The Extrinsic Manifestation of Sprawl: Complex Dynamics of Urbanization, Land Imperviousness, and Sustainability in Mediterranean Landscapes
Chapter 4. Deciphering Metropolitan Expansion: Settlement Patterns and Environmental Dynamics
Chapter 5. From Cityscape to Poolside: A Comprehensive Analysis of Sprawl in the Mediterranean



River Publishers Series in Social, Urban, Economic and Environmental Sustainability

ISBN: 9788770041775
e-ISBN: 9788770041768
Available From: August 2024
Price: $ 126.50

KEYWORDS:
Applied economics, geography, regional demography, urban development, spatial planning, rural sociology.

www.riverpublishers.com
marketing@riverpublishers.com